5. EARLY TERMINATION AND EXIT CLAUSE

This clause sets out the complete framework governing early termination of this Agreement. The parties acknowledge that the Vendor has made significant upfront investment in onboarding, implementation, and dedicated resourcing for the Client, and that early termination causes material commercial harm to the Vendor.

5.1 Termination for Convenience

The Client may terminate this Agreement for convenience at any time by providing 120 days written notice to the Vendor. Such termination triggers the Exit Fee obligations set out in Clause 5.5 below, calculated from the date the notice of termination is received.

5.2 Termination for Cause by Client

The Client may terminate this Agreement immediately and without Exit Fee liability if:

(a) The Vendor fails to meet the Minimum Service Level (defined as platform uptime below 98.5% for two consecutive months) and fails to remedy such failure within 45 days of written notice;

(b) The Vendor commits a material breach of its data protection obligations resulting in a notifiable personal data breach affecting more than 100 Client data subjects;

(c) The Vendor enters into administration, liquidation, or any formal insolvency process;

(d) The Vendor is acquired by a direct competitor of the Client (as defined in Schedule 1) and the Client notifies the Vendor within 60 days of such acquisition.

Important: Termination for cause under this Clause requires the Client to provide detailed written evidence of the triggering event. The Vendor has the right to dispute the grounds for termination within 14 days, in which case the matter is referred to expedited arbitration under the ICC Rules.

5.3 Termination for Cause by Vendor

The Vendor may terminate this Agreement on 30 days written notice if: (a) the Client fails to pay any undisputed invoice within 45 days of the due date; (b) the Client uses the platform in material breach of the Acceptable Use Policy for more than 14 days after notice; or (c) the Client attempts to reverse engineer, copy, or resell the platform.

5.4 Change of Control

If the Client undergoes a Change of Control (defined as a transfer of more than 50% of voting shares or effective management control), the Vendor may, at its sole discretion within 60 days of such event: (a) continue this Agreement on existing terms; (b) renegotiate terms with 90 days notice; or (c) terminate on 90 days notice subject to a reduced Exit Fee of 25% of the standard applicable fee.
